HOW MACARONI IS MADE. Conceive, says the Boston Advertiser, of a table of very thick plack. Through this is made a hole shaped like a funnel-large on the upper side of the table and tapering down to the size of the intended macarons on the under side. This funnel-shaped hole is lined with metal for smoothness. A piece of large wire of the size of the hollow to be in the macaroni, is held upright in the middle of the funnel by a small cross-bar passing through it, from side to side of the funnel.— The lower end of this upright wire being even with the lower end of the funnel and in the centre of it, has thus a circular space, or emptying riog, around it, through which the dough is to pass and take its mucaroni shape. On the table, around the funnel, is placed a strong metal boop, wide like a cheese hoop, Great Northwestern Territory. A MIXED-UP LAWSUIT.

An exchange paper tells of a "mixed-up one Davidson. Dog ran into the road and frightened a horse belonging to one Shafelt. Shufelt's horse ran away, upset a wagon, and broke a leg belonging to W. H. Patterson. The question now is, who shall Patterson sue for damages-Smith, Shutelt, or Davidson? As Smith bad caused the accident, Shufelt allows that Smith should foot the bill. Smith's counsel objects to this by saying that Smitt was doing a lawful act in a lawful manner, and that, as the horse was frightened by the dog, the owner of the dog (Davidson) should pay the damages. Davidson's lawyer claims, on the contrary, that he is not holden, because the dog was not mad; and, if he were mad, he would not have frightened the borse, had Smith attended to his own business and let the deg alone -How the question will come out will be known in June, when the Court sits.
